

Messy, Messy, Messy!

By Kanika G

Copyright 2016 by Kanika G

Messy, Messy, Messy!

Tania had just come home from school. Mama, Sonia and Tania ate lunch together. They had green salad, brown rice with lentils and green beans. For dessert, they had grapes and apples.

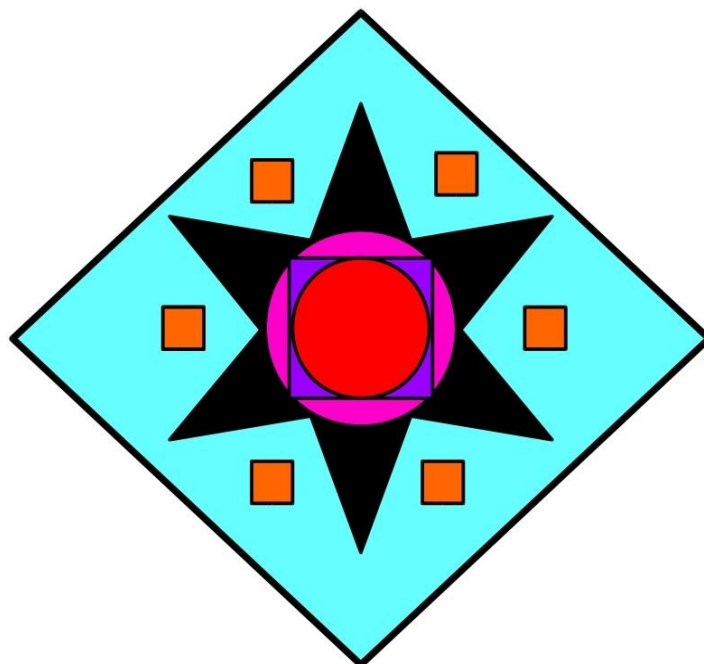

After lunch, mama and Sonia went to take a nap. Tania began her homework. She had to draw and paint a kite.

She drew a the kite with a pretty design full of circles, squares and a star.

Then she put the tubes of red, pink, blue, black, purple and orange water colours, a paint brush and a cup of water neatly on the table.

She painted all the shapes. Look how pretty the kite looks!

Then Tania put the kite on her bed, to dry. Just then the phone rang. Tania picked it up. It was Tanisha.

Tanisha had a bad cold. So she had missed school. Tania told Tanisha about all the things she did at school and about the kite they had to paint for homework. The phone call lasted for 20 minutes.

When Tania got back to the table, it was a mess. There was paint everywhere.

The water colour tubes were empty. The water cup was on the floor, and the water was all over the table.

Sonia was sitting on the floor, next to the mess. Her face and hands were full of colour and she was smiling full of glee.

Tania went to mama's bedroom and saw mama was fast asleep. Sonia had waited till mama fell asleep. Then she walked out. When she saw that, Tania was on the phone, she decided to have some fun.

"I am so glad, I put my painting of the kite away, before taking the call." Tania said. "At least that is safe."

Pictures of fruits are courtesey openclipart.org